Antivirus software is really as vital as a PC's operating system. Even though you are fully aware of the several extreme caution and potential threats but, there will be some threats that cannot be prevented without the extra help of the Antivirus software for Windows. There are several Antivirus software available in the market and it can be a very tricky task to find a perfect one for the safety of your PC. Are you looking for the best Antivirus software for your Windows in 2020? If yes is your answer, then let's go through some of the best 3 Antivirus for Windows right now.

Bitdefender Antivirus Plus

Bitdefender Antivirus Plus is one of the most reliable and popular Antivirus software for Windows users in 2020. If your main concern is only regarding the safety of your computer, then you should only go for the Bitdefender Antivirus Plus without any second thought. It offers great protection against annoying malware and system-crippling viruses to the windows users. There are other antivirus programs that only give you a single user license; Bitdefender will give you three user licenses to protect your multiple PCs at once easily without any issues. It includes many advanced protection tools that most of the antivirus programs do not have, including a password manager, VPN, and safe banking tools.

VIPRE Advanced Security

VIPRE Advanced Security is also one of the best antivirus programs available in the market for Windows users. It is very easy to use and user-interface is really great for the users. This Antivirus software quickly stops malware from infecting your PC and make your Windows malware-free. It also monitors email messages and various links and downloads. If you have received any suspicious messages, then VIPRE will send a message copy to its quarantine folder. By this folder, you would able to open and read any message in a reliable and secure space without bothering about anything serious for sure.

Avast Free Antivirus

Avast Free Antivirus does an excellent job of keeping your Windows safe from the malware attacks. I have personally used Avast and it is really amazing in blocking various phishing schemes. It stops malware files as they are downloading and stop any chance to infect your PC for sure. If you are going to access a dangerous website, then Avast will display a pop warning message to you. It would be better for you to understand that it is a free program and you are going to see many pop-up ads asking you to subscribe. It mainly uses a lot of your computer resources which may slow your computer after some time.

Finally, you are aware of the best 3 Antivirus software for Windows in 2020 which you should install right now on your computer to be safe from any kind of malware attack for sure. I would strongly suggest you go for the Avast Free Antivirus as it is completely free to use and would give great protection to your PC.
