In brief

It's the internet era now since times have changed. People used to work with the fonts provided within their systems and devices.

It's the internet era now since times have changed. People used to work with the fonts provided within their systems and devices. Still, online font generators have changed the game by giving them so much more than they ever needed by including extensive options in the field of fonts. Hence, allowing everyone to be more creative and expressive with the type of writing style one wants to portray.

The font style you select for your text is one of the most important elements of any website, blog, or social networking page. The font you pick for your content matters because it tells a story or conveys a message in and of itself. For instance, bold font kinds signify emphasis, whereas italics and cursives signify contrast or emphasis.

In addition, you might search for a font that you can use commercially if you need one for a new branding project, a poster, or a website. Thankfully, there are several free and paid font websites to choose from online. Some of which are:

1. Google Fonts

Google Fonts is a computer typeface and web font service owned by Google. An interactive web directory for viewing the collection, free and open-source font families, and APIs for accessing the fonts are all included.

User guide for Google Fonts

1. Go to the google fonts website . You'll arrive at the homepage of Google Fonts.
2. If you know the name of your font, you can search for it by typing the font name in the search bar. OR You can type your sentence in the custom/sentence/paragraph section. It will then show your sentence in different fonts you can choose from. You can customize your font size from the font size bar next to the sentence bar.
3. Once you find your font, click on it to see the preview, and then click on the Download family option on the top right. The font will now be downloaded to your device.
4. Right-click on the zip file and select extract all from the drop-down menu.
5. Once you extract the files, it will create a folder at the selected destination. Open the folder, right-click on the font you want, and choose install from the drop-down.

With its invitation to users to browse, sort, and test typefaces for use in more than 135 languages, the Google Fonts portfolio puts typography front and center. Additionally, you can make your own highly customized collections by filtering families, weights, and scripts, testing color schemes, and reviewing example content. You may easily use them in your digital products for Android, iOS, and the web by downloading them to your computer.

2. Creative Fabrica

Creative Fabrica is an Amsterdam-based start-up that combines a love of the arts with a zeal for handmade goods and fonts.
