In brief

Many people may still be wondering what does the Number in Snapchat means. We can see a number on the profile page and the Snapchat score username.

Many people may still be wondering what does the Number in Snapchat means. We can see a number on the profile page and the Snapchat score username. Suppose you are wondering what the Snapchat Score Means. Here we have the answer so that you can easily understand your score once you access your Snapchat account.

The Snapchat number next to the name is nothing other than a Snapchat score. You can find it along with the username on the profile page. So to find out your score, head over to the profile page, and you can see some number next to your Snapchat name. But looking at the Number, you might think about how it can be calculated and the factors for that.

Snapchat Score Meaning

As per Snapchat, the Number indicates a profile score that combines all the Snaps you received, sent, and all the stories viewed, etc. So if you calculate all these factors, you can see some difference in the score. But we think it is not precisely correct.

So we can say that the actual Snapchat score you might receive is based on some unknown/unrevealed criteria. Snapchat uses some special algorithm to calculate your Snapchat score based on all the sent and received snaps and the stories you watched. And as a result of that, the number is shown on the profile by the username's side.

How is Snapchat Score Calculated

Different factors determine the snap score. The snapscore is increased gradually while using the app. Initially, the score will be low, and once you engage in the application, the score will be increased gradually. Several factors can improve and increase the Snap score, which includes

Stories that you are Posting and Viewing

If you add more stories on Snapchat, the snapscore will increase. Also, if you view the stories of others, the Snap score will increase.

Snaps You Send and Receive

Same as the stories, if you send and receive more snaps, it will also help you increase the Snap scores. The more snaps you send and receive, the more snap score will be.

Your Friends on Snapchat

The more you gain friends on Snapchat, the more score you will get. Increasing the number of friends on Snapchat will increase your Snap score too.

Discovering Videos

Discovering and watching videos on Snapchat will also help you increase your Snapscore. So, start discovering more videos on Snapchat and increase your Snap Score.

How Does Snap Score Work

As mentioned before, Snapscore is a value that helps understand the importance of a Snapchat account. If the snap score is more, it will give the impression that the particular account is active and is valuable. That is why Snapchat users are trying to increase the snap score of their accounts. However, it is important to gain the snap score gradually and organically. Getting a higher snap score in a single day is not good.

To gain a good snap score, it should be increased gradually. You can see the below section to check. How can we improve the Snapchat Score, for details? It will help you gain a snap score and thus increase the reputation of your Snapchat account.

How can we increase the Snapchat Score?

Some third-party websites or services offer Snapchat scores claiming free and only by some clicks. But we don't recommend these types of hacks, which might cause damage to your profile and reputation.

So, always go for the genuine way. There is no shortcut for this, you can do your activities as before, and your score will increase in time.

Is the Number in the Snapchat or the Score is Important?

It is not at all an important factor for social recognition. You can see the number and its difference when comparing your profile with others. So directly, there is no relation between the number and social recognition. So its an only a score for your activity, and it can also be called Snapscore. So, you don't have to look for the Snapscore Meaning, and it is the same as the number next to the name on Snapchat, which we mentioned above.
