In brief

You might have heard of Xtranet for the first time, but it's actually the result of a major merger. Xtranet is the new name for the broadband services previously offered by KFON, DWAN, and Stampede.

You might have heard of Xtranet for the first time, but it's actually the result of a major merger. Xtranet is the new name for the broadband services previously offered by KFON, DWAN, and Stampede. These three well-known broadband providers have joined forces to create a single company, bringing together their expertise and resources.

With this merger, Xtranet is now able to offer a variety of appealing plans designed to meet the needs of all customers. Whether you're looking for high-speed internet or affordable options, Xtranet has something for everyone.
