Watching your loved ones at home from the office is an interesting thing, right? Yes, for this option, Yi Home Camera is the best solution. It is one of the best and cheap home IP cameras available now.

The camera supports 720p HD resolution and after connecting to your Home Wifi network using the Yi Home app, you can view the live streaming from anywhere in the world using the home camera app for mobile or Windows Application. It is to be noted that Yi Home camera is designed for indoor usage and for outdoor purposes another model named Yi Outdoor Camera is available too.

Some of the highlights of the camera includes

Always on guard, 24x7

Yi Home camera night vision features a "non-invasive" 940nm infrared sensor that functions even in dim environments, without disturbing those being monitored. It also features an intelligent system to ensure clear and high-quality images day and night.

Keep you informed of what's going on, instantly

Yi Home camera always keeps an eye on things that are important to you. With built-in high accuracy motion detection technology, the camera sends a notification to your mobile phone detailing when, where, and what movement was detected so you always stay on top of things that you care about, instantly!

Time capsule your memory and access at your fingertip

Support up to 32GB SD card, it stores video and audio of special moments, fully indexed, for you to cherish at the touch of your fingertip. Best yet, a built-in mode triggers store action only when image change is detected to achieve the best storage capacity optimization.

Full panoramic view without lifting your finger!

By simply panning your mobile phone left and right, a complete panoramic view will be displayed to provide a better viewing experience. The gyroscope support, integrated into the YI Smart App, is able to follow the mobile phone orientation, making it easier to see every corner being monitored.
